

Dhāraṇīśvararāja, n. of a Bodhisattva: RP 2.1.
dhārayati, (1) with infin., holds out = is able, endures (to do something): na dhārayisyati eṣo bhūyo imam alindam odanasya (so read, see alinda) khāditum Mv ii.462.11, (after eating a large basket of hard food he will be full); (2) makes fast, locks (a door, gate, against someone, gen.): vaidyānām dvāram dhārayitvā svayam eva cikitsā kṛta MSV ii.66.10. Or read dvār°? Cf. avadvārāpayati.

dhārmakathika, m. (= dharma°, q.v.), preacher: Divy 493.8; Śiks 56.1; Kalpanāmañḍitikā, Lüders, Kl. Skt. Texte 2 p. 43; Bhb 162.2; 175.7; -tva, abstr.: Bhb 239.8; MSV iii.122.4.

dhārmarājikā = dharmaṇikā, q.v.: Divy 368.28.
dhārmaśravaṇika and °śrāv° = dharmaśravaṇika, q.v.

?dhārmikikṣita, acc. sg. °tam (v.l. °kṣitam, but Mironov only °kṣitam), anupradāsyāmaḥ (Mironov °ma) Mvy 7307 = Tib. chos bzhin du (according to dharma) dpyah (°dpya, tribute?), or kha(?), or cha hbul ba (give portion); Chin. versions also seem to mean offer or hand over according to law. I can only conjecture a hyper-Skt. substitute for some MIndic form, Skt. dhārmika, adj., plus possibly icchita, MIndic ppp. to icchati, what is required by dharma?

dhārmya, adj., religious, holy; see s.v. 3 dharma.
dhāvana, nt., causing to wash, having washed (a monk's robe, by a nun unrelated to him; cf. Pali Vin. iii.206.20–22): Mvy 8388; cf. also Prāt 491.8 and Mvy 9258 dhāvayet (caus. of dhāv-, wash; recorded in BR, tho the mg. assigned is that of the non-caus.).

dhāvita (nt.? not otherwise recorded as noun), running, as an athletic exercise or art, in lists of arts learned by a young man: °te (423.16 adds laṅghite) javite plavite Mv ii.423.16; 434.12; °tesmim (so mss., Senart °tasmin) laṅghite javite iii.184.8. All locs.

dhi, interj. (= Pali id., Skt. dhik), sie! upon it!: hā hā dhi muṣyanti hi (v.l. °ti mi, i.e. °ti ime) sarvasattvā SP 351.6 alas, alas, fie! for all creatures (or, all these creatures) are deceived (or, lost). WT read śuṣyanti; both edd. take dhi as the preverb adhi with the verb, but it is surely the interj.

dhigama = adhibama, q.v., Laṅk 144.10 = 324.5; see § 4.7.

dhitar-, dhitar- (°rā-), dhitā-, dhitrā- (= Pali dhitar-, dhītā; Skt. duhitār-), daughter: (1) forms based on normal Skt. r-stem forms: n. sg. dhītā Mv i.36.10; 44.10 ff.; 302.6, 13; 304.8; 305.6; 349.2; 352.15; ii.97.6; 172.10; 441.8, etc.; dhīta, m.c., LV 271.5 (vs); acc. sg. dhītarām Mv i.180.17; ii.88.16; 110.18 (v.l. °tāram); 441.18; 442.1; 485.18; iii.9.1; 20.1; 23.14; gen. (abl.) sg. dhītū, °uh Mv i.36.14; 302.10; 306.8; 307.3; ii.44.11; dhītu (v.l. °uh; prose, before vowel) ii.458.18; n. pl. dhītarō Mv i.348.12; 355.16; 356.8; ii.490.9; iii.282.7, 13; 283.3, 8, 13; 285.15; 300.4; dhītarō used as acc. pl. Mv ii.490.11; iii.16.4; 285.11; (2) forms based on fem. ā-stem, starting from n. sg. dhītā: voc. sg. °te Mv ii.172.16; acc. sg. °tām Mv i.356.12; ii.65.6; 73.5; 337.18 (mss.); 442.3; 490.12; iii.146.8; oblique sg. °tāye Mv ii.66.1; 88.15; 263.16 (note duhituh 17); 444.9; 486.10; iii.39.7, 19; n. pl. dhīta, m.c. for °tā(h) LV 170.13; (3) stem dhītrā, § 13.15: (read) kula-dhītrāya, Inst., Thomas ap. Hoernle, MR 94.2; (4) forms based on stem dhītarā-, abstracted from acc. sg. °ram, with masc. endings: n. sg. dhītarō Mv iii.88.18, 20; 89.12 (here Senart em. dhītā), 14; inst. °reṇa Mv iii.39.17; loc. (? § 13.37) dhītarē Mv ii.65.17; acc. pl. °rām Mv i.356.17 (in 18 °ro); °rāmś caiva ii.367.21; (5) forms based on stem dhītarā-, fem.: acc. sg. °rām Mv iii.146.4; 284.3 (v.l. °rām), and read so with 1 ms. 284.17; oblique sg.

°rāya Mv ii.58.2 (loc.; mss., cf. Pali Jāt. 5.403.4–5), °rāye ii.111.14 (inst.); n. pl. °rāḥ LV 53.1 (vs); acc. pl. °rā (for °rāḥ) Suv 63.3 (vs); gen. pl. dhītarāṇam Mv i.356.6 (prose).

dhuta, adj. and subst. (= Pali id.; as adj. rarely in Skt., in comp. dhuta-pāpa, having purified his sin, BR), purified, got rid of (evil, as in Skt.); arahām dhutakleśo Mv i.247.12; pure, of persons: buddham dhuta-janārcitam Mv i.186.13; oftener (as also in Pali tho not clearly indicated in PTSD; cf. dhutadhara, Childers dhutavata, and AN i.23.19 dhuta-vādāṇam aggam) = dhuta-guna (dhū°), -dhārma (cf. dhuta-dhara): āranya-dhutā-bhyuktāh SP 310.3 (vs; cf. Pali araññākaṅga, ār°); śikṣa dhutāṇmās ca RP 30.15 (vs), the instructions and qualities of the purified man (Finot p. X strangely les exhortations!); dhuta-yāna (ms. dhuna°) deśita jinebhīḥ RP 27.17, the way of the dhuta-guna, taught by the Jinas; tatra dhute satatam ca prayukto id. 18, in that dhuta-guna) ... (In SP 83.2 (vs) KN jirṇapratvāddham dhutavedikam ca, reporting Kashgar rec. as jirṇapratvāddhodhṛtavedikam ca; WT with ms. K' jirṇu pratvāddhodhṛta°; certainly uddhṛta, not dhuta, must be intended.)

dhuta-guna, m. (= dhūta-guna, q.v.; tho not recognized in PTSD, this occurs in Pali, Dhp. comm. iv.30.13, besides dhūta°, q.v., for more regular dhutaṅga; cf. dhuta, which is also used alone in this sense, and dhuta-dhārma), (one of the 12) qualities of the purified man: Dhb 98.2; dhutamguna (nasalization m.c.) Śiks 328.2 (vs, from Ratnolkādhāraṇi); dhutagunāgrapārago (of Kāśyapa, see s.vv. dhutadharma, dhūtaguṇa) Mv i.64.14 (vs).

dhuta-guṇin, one who possesses the dhutaguṇa: Śiks 98.20 (prose). The word dhūtaguṇa is used without suffix, as Bhvr., in this mg.

dhuta-dhara, m. (= Pali id.), maintainer of the dhuta(-guṇa): Mv i.71.12 (vs) °rā, voc., to Kāśyapa; see s.vv. dhutaguṇa, dhū, dhutadharma.

dhuta-dharma, m. pl. (= dhuta, °guna, dhūtaguṇa: cf. Pali dhammāmā dhutam Sn 385, but the sequel shows that this is not used in the technical sense of Pali dhutaṅga; it is very vague and general; Childers cites a dhūta-dhamma but his references fail to show it), the qualities of the purified man: °māḥ RP 33.1 (vs); the disciple Kāśyapa is regularly called dhutadharma-dhara, maintainer of the..., Mv i.85.11 ff.; 105.12, 13, or the like, as °rma-dhārin Mv i.66.16; °rma-samāṅgin (see samāṅgin) i.71.16; in i.69.13 (vs) Senart reads evam ukte dhutadharmaviśuddho (Kāśyapo ...), mss. °rma-su-viśuddham; the syllable su is hypermetric, but the acc. °dham (tho certainly referring to K.) could perhaps stand as goal of ukte, if having been thus spoken to the one-that-was-purified-in-the-dhutadharma, K. (replied); Kāśyapa has similar epithets involving dhutaguṇa (dhū°), a fact which establishes their equivalence of mg. with dhutadharma; and see also dhutadharma. Similarly in Pali, Mahā-Kassapa in AN i.23.19 is called dhuta-vādāṇam (v.l. dhutaṅga-dharāṇam) agga.

dhuttūraka (= Skt. dhattūraka, Schmidt, Nachträge; cf. M. dhuttīraya, flower of the thorn-apple), °ka-puśpāṇi, flowers of the thorn-apple: Mmk 314.18; 316.11.

dhunana, (nt.; = Pali id., Childers, without ref., and °na-ka, ifc. Bhvr., PTSD; AMg. dhuṇana; Skt. dhūnana; to dhunati = Skt. dhunoti plus -ana), shaking, agitation: °na-kampana- Sādh 80.12; 82.10, 13, 15.

?dhuni (perh. = Pkt. Lex. dhuṇi, Sheth, cf. AMg. jhuni, for Skt. dhvani?), sound (?), in -mahati gāthā-dhuni Divy 328.26 (prose).

dhura, subst. and adj. (= Pali id.; Skt. dhur, both mgs., and dhura, at least mg. 1, in less technical sense), (1) burden, esp. religious obligation or duty (in Pali, e.g. gantha, study of texts, vipassanā, reflection, saddhā, sīla, paññā): dhura-(so mss., to be kept; Senart em.
