

Atalam—an underworld of dark earth; here is the house of Namuci, the Indra of the Asuras besides those of Śankukarna, Nāgas, Rākṣasas, etc. White soil.

Vā. 50. 11, 13 and 15-19. Vi. II. 5. 2, 3.

Atikapila—a son of Jyotiṣmat, after whom the kingdom got its name.

Vi. II. 4. 36.

Atikāya—a Rākṣasa who was killed in the war at Lankā.

Bhā. IX. 10. 18.

Atigulma—a son of Balarāma.

Br. III. 71. 167.

Aticchandas—a poetic metre.

Bhā. XI. 21. 41.

Atijagatī—poetic metre.

Bhā. XI. 21. 41.

Atitānam—the name of divine Gāndharvam sung by Hāhā and Hūhū in Brahmaloaka.

Vi. IV. 1. 68.

Atithi (I)—the son of Kuśa, Ramā's son and father of Niṣadha: a good looking monarch.

Bhā. IX. 12. 1; Br. III. 63. 201; M. 12. 52; Vā. 88. 201; Vi. IV. 4. 105.

Athithi (II)—a god of Ādya group.

Br. II. 36. 69.

Atithi (III)—honouring the guest is a kind of yāga.¹ An imperative duty of a householder;² to be entertained in śrāddhas.³

¹ Br. III. 15. 8-20; 21. 46.

² Vi. III. 9. 15; 11. 58-70; 78,

106-110; 15. 25. ³ Vā. 79. 7-19.