

Karambhava—a Janapada of the Ketumāla.

Vā. 44. 11.

Karambhavāluka—a hell for those fallen from karma.

Br. II. 28. 84; Vā. 56. 79.

Karambhi—a son of Śakuni, and father of Devarāta.

Bhā. IX. 24. 5; Vi. IV. 12. 41.

Kararoma—a Kādraveya Nāga.

Br. III. 7. 37.

Karava—a chief of the Vānaras.

Br. III. 7. 234.

Karavātas—a Janapada of the Ketumāla.

Vā. 44. 12.

Karavīra (I)—a Kādraveya Nāga.

Br. III. 7. 35.

Karavīra (II)—a Mt. on the south of Meru.

Bhā. V. 16. 27.

Karavīrapuram—sacred to Mahālakṣmi, and to Pitṛs.

M. 13. 41; 22. 76.

Karavīrapura—at the foot of Gomanta hill and under a chieftain Śṛgālavāsudeva. The latter rose against Kṛṣṇa and Rāma who occupied the city after killing him. Welcome by its citizens. Spoils and slaves sent to Mathurā. Kṛṣṇa and Rāma lived here for four months. Pursued by Jarā-sandha, the brothers fled to this city and after taking rest for the night got up the hill before daybreak. Not visited by Vasudeva by order of Kaiśa.

Bhā. X. [52 (V) 28-42]; [53. (V) 20-21]; 52. 11 [1]; 66. [9].