

Nimi (III)—a son of Bhajamāna.

M. 44. 50. Vi. IV. 13. 2.

Nimi (IV)—a commander of Tāraka's army; had a chariot of elephants;¹ found out the trick of the Sun God in making Asuras appear like Devas and causing their slaughter; he reported this to Kālanemi; threw darts on Janārdana;² sent cakra against Viṣṇu;³ fight of, with Janārdana;⁴ fight with Dikpālakas and Kṛṣṇa and Indra; Indra wounded by Mudgara.⁵

¹ M. 148. 42, 51. ² Ib. 150. 161; 224. ³ Ib. 151. 12, 31.
⁴ Ib. 152. 33. ⁵ Ib. 153. 55, 62.

Nimi (V)—the younger brother of Vikukṣi; established the city of Jayanta near Gautama's āśrama.

Vā. 89. 1-2.

Nimi (VI)—a son of Bāhyaka.

Vā. 96. 4.

Nimi (VII)—the father of six Ṛtus.

Br. II. 13. 18.

Nimitta—the son of Daṇḍapāni and father of Kṣemaka.

Vi. IV. 21. 15-6.

Nimittam—science of astrology;¹ throbbing of limbs on the right, auspicious, and on the left, inauspicious; the results of such movements;² gifts of suvarṇam to the Brahmana;³ a list of things that must not come against or cross the path when the king goes on a march; if seen, prayer to Keśava, mitigates effects;⁴ in connection with the installation of images.⁵

¹ M. 215. 9. ² Ib. 240. 15; 241. 1 ff. ³ Ib. 241. 4-12. ⁴ Ib. 243. 2-3. ⁵ Ib. 264. 9.
P. 31